

Nedging with Naughton Village Hall Report

September 2026

Events

We held a Quiz in July which was well attended. A Chilli Supper was supplied by some of the committee.

The Produce show was held at the Hall. Despite the bad weather there was a good turnout and lots of produce.

Our next event at the hall will be a Jumble Sale. We still have a lot of stock left over from the previous one held in April.

There will be a Traitors night again in October.

We are currently waiting for the new hand rail to be fitted. Barking Forge are making it. Thanks to Lee for giving us some money towards the cost of it. The Handrail will help our less able villagers enter the hall safely.

There are still a few repairs to make to the hall we are waiting for quotes and grants.

The Community Payback team have been continually visiting the hall on Sundays and made a huge difference to the field at the rear of the hall.

The exercise class and the art class are still running and well attended but I hear there are still some places available in the art class if anyone would like to learn how to paint and draw.

We have had a few parties held at the hall over the summer.

BATS will be using the hall again this autumn for the rehearsals of their next pantomime.
